I have offered this up but I will mention it one more time as almost all of my efforts revolve around the concept of the Lunar Wave. Back in late 2014 I took it upon myself to start the journey to capture it myself, experience, donate the clips, and share it with others. I started a .com website, a Youtube channel with nearing 200 subscribers now, purchased a telescope, a 26 megapixel DSLR camera, all of the small pieces I need to hook it up - and am actively filming the moon nightly in order to attempt to capture "the wave." So far - I have not seen it. Many have offered up "debunking" but not a single theory holds any water. So the best I can do is take my telescope, DSLR Nikon, and film and see where it takes me. In that time I have captured many UFO's crossing the moon, chemtrails, tropical storms, and great shots of the moon and sun and stars.

My website is www.houston.skywatch.com which is a portal to reach me at my Youtube channel which is <https://www.youtube.com/c/HoustonSkywatch> I exclusively release my work on Youtube.

The entire website and web presence is dedicated to capturing the Lunar Wave and then sharing it if we can ever witness it. If we do - it'll be like winning the lottery. As a matter of fact, however, the latest capture was in Houston and I had been filming that night both before and after the instance of the wave. I missed it in a matter of about an hour by sheer chance.

My idea is this: There is a website called "Fiverr" (www.fiverr.com) On this site, you can pay for any range of services - one being Russian to English technical writing translation. It only costs $5 for a certain number of words. So if we can get Crrrow himself to give us what he considers to be the relevant passages - I would gladly pay for the services. I have attempted to get this going but so far with no good response. I am tempted to do it on my own but if anyone wants to help please do not hesitate to contact me through the contact form located at www.houston.skywatch.com - near the bottom of the page. That emails me directly and I always respond. Let me know - anyone out there reading.

Thanks for the comment! I checked out your channel and subscribed to your channel immediately. Your work and Crrrow's in respect to UFOs captured on film fit quite a few of Hatibow's comments online. I'm trying to get another post out yet this week on the subject, but it's taking a bit of time to make it flow together.

As for getting a hold of the original texts in Russian, I'm not sure about how to go about that. I don't actually know Crrrow or the THC group, so I wouldn't be able to ask directly. I think that on Google translations you can switch to the original text in Russian; not sure if that is helpful or not.

Anyway, thanks again for dropping a line. I'll keep up with your channel and will link a few videos to the blog (if you don't mind).

I would be grateful. I haven't been posting on Youtube but for around a year but I would most definitely appreciate it. Most recently I exposed something going on with more NASA fakery that I hadn't seen anyone else touch on. Little did I know, the night after posting the clip it went viral and in one days time I was threatened with libel and I had to remove the entire clip. I had worked on the clip for over a month, so it was quite a shame.

If you don't mind I may link to your blog as well in my Youtube research. Always feel free to contact me via PM on Youtube or my website. I speak to Crrrow quite often through Youtube private messages and have the entire time. I consider him a great friend.

Just found your site, lots of well written articles. I remember watching some of the Crow guy's videos a while ago and was pretty amazed too. I'm not sure about this Russian guy's theory though... sounds like some crazy stuff ripped from Animorphs. But as far as the earth's orbit being disrupted, there is one similar theory you might find interesting saturndeathcult.com

Thank Crestind - I don't have a proofreader, so I'm sure a few errors slip through, but I do try my best to get the article tidied up. I'll have to take a look at the Animorph stuff; that would be very interesting if the Hatibow material synced with the Animorph mythos.

The Saturn model is indeed fascinating! I've heard a few interviews but I also get lost in the details. Thanks for the link - I'll check it out. Would you happen to have any books you'd recommend on the subject of Saturn as well? Thanks again for commenting.

Hi, Sagesigma. First off, thank you for your excellent work on Hatibow. Secondly, on the subject of Saturn and the Polar Configuration, I can recommend two books I personally own and think are excellent, David Talbott's "The Saturn Myth" and Dwardu Cardona's "God Star". Cardona has done a series of books including God Star, but I've only read the first in the series. It is a very thorough and at times dry read, but I cannot recommend it enough.

These two writers do not get into esotericism, aliens or anything like that. If you are interested in learning more about a possible insect-like alien invasion, you might want to look into John Lamb Lash's "Not in His Image: Gnostic Vision, Sacred Ecology, and the Future of Belief". He points to the fact that you can generate acari with organic matter and current alone, which is used to substantiate his thesis of the Gnostic Archons being insect-like creatures that rule this holographic reality.

For more "serious" research into alien abduction, alien-human cross-breeding, aliens using humans as power sources and controlling this reality, you might want to look into Karla Turner's books. Also Corrado Malanga, an Italian researcher, has done great work on this. He is my personal favorite. I hope you find my recommendations helpful.

+sendivogius thanks for the recommendations! I've add the two books to my queue and look forward to getting a copy. I've actually read most of Lamb's book, and the connection with Vallee's work is wonderful. I'll take a look at Malanga today - thank you again for the recommendations!

Hello dear .You put really very helpful information.
It's pretty worth enough for me. In my opinion, if all webmasters and bloggers made good content as you did, the web will be a lot more useful than ever before.
